CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS.

Detroit in the Hands of the Servants of the Most High God.

ONE DAY DEVOTED TO HIS SERVICE.

Lessons Taught by the Signs of the Times—Meetings for the Sabbath—Sabbath Observance—The Open Side Door—Consecration Services—A Personal Matter.

Detroit, Mich., July 10.—Although a large majority of the army of Christian Endeavorers in Detroit utilized the street cars yesterday, a considerable portion refrained from reading the Sunday newspapers. Few of the past-tense pupils went to the extreme of inconveniencing themselves by walking long distances as did Rev. Charles M. Sheldon, author of "In His Steps," who walked more than three miles to preach from the text: "One is our Master; all we are brethren," to a congregation which entirely exceeded the capacity of Bethany Presbyterian church.

Signs of the Times. Mr. Sheldon spoke optimistically of the signs of the time, especially the awakening of the social conscience; better relations between employers and employees; federation of the church; movement toward civic righteousness, and an awakening to the stewardship feature of the Christian's life, as to his money, time and talents.

The features of the afternoon were crowded meetings for men and women, exclusively, and a Sabbath observance rally.

Meeting for Men Only.

Thirty-five hundred men filled the floors and galleries of Light Guard armory at the men's meeting. The men sang with fine enthusiasm, and a very large proportion of them publicly pledged that the occasion would be with them a landmark from which they would date a better life. Secretary Baer conducted the meeting, and Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, of New York, preached from Job xviii: 18: "Ye shall be driven from light into darkness, and ye shall be chased out of the world," the theme brought out being the fate of the persistent sinner as compared to that of the godly.

For Women Exclusively.

Mrs. F. E. Clarke, wife of President Clarke, presided over the women's meeting, which filled the Woodward-avenue Baptist church. Mrs. Joseph Walker, of Queensland, Australia, led the devotions. The programme of addresses was as follows:

"The Women of Mexico," Mrs. C. Scott Williams, San Luis Potosi, Mexico; "The Women of China," Miss Caroline E. Chittenden, Foo Chow, China; "The Women of Asia," Miss Jessie Ackerman, Chicago; "Woman's Work for Her Country," Mrs. Howard M. Ingham, Jefferson, O.

Sabbath Observance.

Westminster Presbyterian church could not contain the audience which attended the Sabbath observance gathering. An address upon "Sabbath in the Home" was delivered by Rev. Dr. David McAllister, of Allegheny, Pa. He held the religious development of the family to be of the utmost importance, the family being the foundation of the civil structure and the corner-stone of the temple of worship. Said he: "We cannot carry on our civilization nor keep our young people to the front unless they are trained in Sabbath-keeping homes."

Closing the "Side Door."

Rev. C. N. Howard, of Rochester, N. Y., related at length the story of some alleged futile attempts made in that city toward closing the "side door" on Sundays. He argued insistently that prohibition is the only true solution of the saloon question.

The closing speech was by Hon. John Charlton, M. P., of Lynedoch, Ont., on "What the Sabbath May Do for Us." The speaker's idea was that Sabbath observance had a far more potent influence in character-building and world development than had commonly been conceded in later years.

Consecration Services.

Last night an additional touch of solemnity was imparted to the meetings of the Christian Endeavorers. The generalities of religion were in some measure neglected, and the evening worship in 31 Protestant churches of Detroit and Windsor took the form of "consecration services."

Making it a Personal Matter.

The participants in these unostentatious but impressive services seemed to be striving to make a direct personal application of the tenets of their faith, and many were the pledges of more exalted effort for the coming year and more Christian service. The capacity of the churches was taxed, and the rapid attention to the one subject of consecration was impressive in the greatest degree.

President Francis E. Clarke conducted the consecration services in the Woodward-avenue Baptist church.

Conducted Consecration Services.

Among the clergymen who directed the services or made consecration addresses in the other churches were Rev. Dr. Charles E. Jefferson, of New York; Rev. Wm. Patterson, of Toronto; Rev. James L. Hill, of Salem, Mass.; Rev. James Murrell, of London, England; Rev. Robert E. Spoor, of New York; Bishop B. W. Aracot, of Wilberforce, O.; Rev. John Pollock, of Glasgow, Scotland; Rev. Dr. John Henry Barrows, of Oberlin; Rev. John E. Pounds, of Indianapolis; Bishop Samuel Fallows, of Chicago, and Rev. Dr. Floyd W. Tompkins, of Philadelphia.

A British Pacific Cable.

San Francisco, July 9.—The British steamer Egeria has arrived from Esquimaux, B. C. The English and Canadian governments are to establish a cable between British Columbia and Australia, which will touch at Samoa and Hawaii. The Egeria is now engaged in the work of surveying the route.

The President and Gov. Roosevelt. Washington, July 10.—Gov. Roosevelt of New York came to Washington Saturday for a conference with the president at the latter's invitation.

THE ALASKAN BOUNDARY LINE.

Return of a Distinguished Party from an Investigation on the Ground.

Tacoma, Wash., July 10.—The Fairbanks-Foster Alaskan boundary party returned from the north yesterday, and interviews with members of the party indicate that the watershed on White pass, back of Skagway and Dyea, will be accepted as the international boundary line at that point. The White and Chilcoot passes constitute the storm center of the Alaska boundary. At those points the Canadians hope to secure concessions that will enable them to anchor down a port of entry into the Klondike gold fields. All other parts of the country thereabouts where concessions are looked for are of little importance compared with the Linn canal, which is the key to the situation.

Senator Fairbanks, when interviewed, placed importance on the fact that he must sit with the joint high commission in August, but declined to state what lines or arguments he would take up. He expressed great satisfaction at having made the trip.

Regarding boundary matters that were discussed during the four weeks spent in Alaska, Senator Foster declined to speak.

"Personally," he said, "I am opposed to yielding an inch of United States territory. A careful investigation, however, demonstrates that there may be present considerations of great importance involved in regards channels, the situation of lesser islands and the like. But, in the main, the United States is plainly given a strip of territory north of Portland canal, or thereabouts, ten marine leagues inland, except where a well-defined mountain range places the boundary nearer the coast. This strip runs to Mount St. Elias.

Many content that the passes that the watershed back of Skagway and Dyea is the dividing line. On the one side are the headwaters of the Yukon, and on the other the streams flowing into Linn canal are formed. Between these two districts there is a chain of mountains that, in the opinion of some, bring in the boundary line some eighteen miles nearer the coast. This seems to be a fair expression of the American view of the boundary question. By this construction of the treaty, it is held England will receive the benefit of every point that can be fairly and honestly granted. On the other hand, however, the Canadian, and many of the Englishmen, hold that the boundary should be drawn 30 miles, or ten marine leagues inland from the headlands. But such a construction, of course, Linn canal would be an inlet into Canadian territory, and ten marine leagues inland from the headlands at the entrance would be many miles south of Skagway and Dyea, and hence Canada and England would have the coveted power of entry without a question of doubt. As I look upon it, personally, Linn canal is a part of the coast. Therefore, it would be unfair to draw a line 30 miles inland from the entrance to bodies of water of that nature, and call it the boundary under the treaty."

Wednesday night a reception will be given here to Senator Foster, Congressman Dail and Payne, the national editors association, the officers of the Iowa and McCulloch. Senator Fairbanks had been invited to be present, but his duties in connection with the boundary dispute compelled him to leave for the east last night via Portland.

ON THE VERGE OF REVOLUTION.

An Attempt to Circulate Six Million Dollars in Paper Money Cause of the Trouble.

San Francisco, July 10.—Prominent citizens of Central America living here claim to have received dispatches indicating that Guatemala is on the verge of another serious revolution. President Cabrera's attempt to force $6,000,000 of paper money into circulation is the alleged cause of the whole difficulty.

It is reported that Dr. Jose Loran, the leader of the last party, Juan Francisco Ponciano, president of the Occidental bank of Guatemala, and Jose E. Sanchez, a capitalist of the Guatemalan capital, who have taken an active part in the present affairs, were threatened with imprisonment and death, and sought refuge in the Mexican legation.
